4-Point Pact Signed

By Supervisors

A flood hit Orange county yesterday—a flood of indorsements for the water program on which citizens will vote Oct. 4.

The "flood" covered an area from Villa Park to Garden Grove and included also Fullerton and Anaheim.

Fullerton led off when the board of directors of the chamber of commerce gave its approval to the $6,620,000 bond issue to help finance the county water conservation and flood control project.

Last night the Foothill farm center at Villa Park joined the water parade, which also now includes the Garden Grove Lions club.

Agreement Okched

Homer Chaney, president of the county council of Lions clubs, was the speaker at yesterday's meeting of the Garden Grove club, talking on the topic, "Our Present Form of Government."

Boards of directors of the Anaheim Union Water company, Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company and Santa Ana River Development company met yesterday afternoon at Anaheim and approved a four-point agreement with the board of supervisors which is interpreted as placing the water concerns in the hands of the county.

Supervisor Willard Smith of Orange said the program last night at the Foothill center meeting, while V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange chamber of commerce, told of increased values which would result from an assured water supply.

The flood of indorsements yesterday augmented a number of others which now practically cover (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

Mr. LeGaye Is Back

Editorial

POLITICS has no place in the flood control and water conservation program which Orange county voters are to decide on Oct. 4, but it appears to be dominating the scene, just the same.

The latest and most disgusting political move is the effort to revive the group that once sponsored the so-called Taxpayers' League. Its ghost appeared yesterday with a new pair of ears but the same old bray.

The Taxpayers' League, or its counterpart, is now called the Associated Water Users of Orange County. It is the straw man set up to defeat the water bonds. And who would you think they have elected to run the show? Yes, you guessed it, Albert F. LeGaye is it. The same Mr. LeGaye who was used as a "front man" during the months preceding the last city election. The same Mr. LeGaye who made agitating his principal occupation. The same Mr. LeGaye who split the city wide open with factionalism.

There are two reasons why Mr. LeGaye is on the job. First, he is accommodating and when employed, will do what he is told. Second, bond elections are difficult to carry. If this one fails he will be credited with having defeated it. He will have a place in the sun again after his recent defeat. LeGaye and his group then can be held up as a threat to the present city council.

This is Mr. LeGaye's big chance. He is being born again.

Two Children 'Kidnaped' in Marital Drama With Reno Divorce for a Background

A Reno divorce—the remarriage of the wife, and then the reported kidnaping of her children provided the elements with which a tense drama was being played out here today. The two children, Robert Cruickshank, 9, and Jack, 7, are now in the custody of the father's attorney at San Gabriel.

The father, John A. Cruickshank, and his former wife, now Mrs. Alice Whitestone, 1811 Bush street, were divorced at Reno last April 1, investigation by officers disclosed yesterday. Mrs. Whitestone remarried. She and her new husband, have been living in Santa Ana with the children since Sept. 14, the investigation showed.

Yesterday when Jack and Robert were on their way home to lunch from the Hoover school, two girl companions said they saw a car stop on Bush street near the Southern Pacific crossing, Dorothy Davis, 2057 Bush street, and Joyce Sharp, 2064 Bush street, told officers they saw one of the two men in the automobile (Please Turn to Page 6, Col. 4)

Prominent in the morning's business was the passage of a resolution asking legislators to enact a law requiring sterilization as a prerequisite to application for parole of anyone serving a second term or more in state's prisons.

The resolution was introduced by Mrs. Margaret Utt, Tustin, indorsed by Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, state president of the W. C. T. U., and passed by the convective.

Discussion of the resolution is to come before the various unions at meetings this winter.

The Resolution

"Resolved, that we ask our legislators to enact a law which shall embody the following idea: In order to eliminate a class of persons who have an unequal chance in life, we advocate the enactment of a law which would require sterilization as a prerequisite to application for parole of anyone serving a second term or more in state's prisons."

Mrs. Wheeler was to tell of the recent national convention at Atlantic City, N. J., this afternoon.

CLUB WINS IN WATER ROW

Order Preventing Duck Pond Flooding Ousted in County Fight

Granted almost a year ago, a temporary restraining order stopping the Westminster Gun club from pumping water to flood duck ponds on club property has been dissolved.

Judge L. N. Turrentine, San Diego county, who heard most of the litigation between the county and the gun club, signed the order dissolving the temporary injunction. The order arrived here last night.

In the order Judge Turrentine pointed out that if the temporary restraining order were allowed, it would have to be granted without bond being placed by the plaintiff, and if erroneous the only recourse of the defendant club would be a suit which would necessarily embrace all the elements of malicious prosecution.

The court also held that the matter has been pending for a sufficient length of time so that the plaintiff county could have disposed of the case on its merits prior to this time.

FLOOD CONTROL PROJECT WOULD MEAN STEADY WORK FOR 5000

RELIEF COST FOR COUNTY TO BE CUT

All Hinges On Approval By Government And Voters Oct. 4

Steady work for more than 5000 men for one year is assured if Orange county's flood control project is approved by the voters and the federal government.

Government approval of the project, including a $6,374,000 federal grant, is expected momentarily and county voters will go to the polls Oct. 4 to express their opinion on the $6,520,000 bond issue that will provide the county's share of the project.

Proponents of the program assert that the project, if approved, will solve the county's relief problem for an entire year and at the same time utilize the labor on a project of vital importance to the future development of the county.

Work for at least 5000 men for one year is assured if the project is approved, will solve the county's relief problem for an entire year and at the same time utilize the labor on a project of vital importance to the future development of the county.

When the project was first set up for submission to the Public Works administration it was estimated that 5080 men would be required to complete the job. When the program was changed and the application for federal aid was made through the United States Army, additions were made that, according to Flood Control Engineer M. N. Thompson, probably will increase the number of men required.

Under the original application it was estimated there would be a year of steady work for 1966 unskilled laborers, 706 semi-skilled every section of the county. Groups which have already pledged support to the program include the board of directors of the Orange county water district, Huntington Beach chamber of commerce, South Coast Improvement association, Orange chamber of commerce, Garden Grove chamber of commerce and farm center and the Anaheim farm center.

Water also will be the vital topic at next Tuesday night's meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at San Clemente, it was announced last night by George Kellogg, Yorba Linda, president. Mr. Kellogg said that each community chamber of commerce would be asked to send delegates to Tuesday's meeting, prepared to vote on the question of endorsing the water program.

CONSERVATION WORTH MILLIONS, SAYS ENGINEER

Conservation of 40,000 acres of water annually by the county water program, plus prevention of costly flood damage, would be worth $20,000,000 to this section, B. A. Etcheverry, consulting engineer for the county, said last night. The value of the water saved and the value of flood protection, when capitalized at 5 per cent, would be worth this huge sum, he said.

Yet the county can launch the workers, 2292 skilled laborers and 115 technical and clerical men.

While it is not known whether the work, if the project is approved, will be paid for at the prevailing wage scale or on the basis of the wages paid workers now on relief, it is believed that the Works Progress administration scale will be the one eventually adopted.

In the application for financial assistance under PWA, the scale was set at 50 cents per hour for unskilled workers, 71 cents per hour for semi-skilled, $1.05 for skilled and $1.25 for technical and clerical work.

The wage was predicated on the average budget of relief workers, then on S.E.R.A. The average budget allowed at that time was $46.04. On this basis it was assumed that a worker on relief could be removed from the relief roll when his average earnings for a four-week period reached $60.

GIRL EVADED BY BARRYMORE

CHICAGO, Sept. 20. (AP)—John Barrymore, having successfully eluded his former protegee, the 20-year-old Elaine Barrie, was reported "boarded up" in a suburban La Grange hotel today.

The 53-year-old actor arrived in Chicago at 8 a. m. and disappeared.

Awaiting him at the station was Miss Barrie. She had followed him from New York by plane and arrived two and a half hours before him. But Barrymore refused to be seen.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Homer Renfro, accused of knifing three youths in a Sunset Beach cafe, pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon when arraigned before Judge A. Caminetti in department 2, superior court, today.

His trial was set for Oct. 3. Renfro, according to officers, ran amok in The Tavern at Sunset Beach on the night of August 17. Before he could be subdued he had slashed Malcolm Sheppard, Lawson Sheppard and Carl Stark.

program by spending only $6,620,000.

Mr. Etcheverry's estimates were given last night at a meeting in the courthouse at which W. H. Spurgeon, Jr., Santa Ana, was selected as chairman of a citizens committee to lead the campaign for the bonds. Mr. Spurgeon named Col. M. B. Wellington, Santa Ana, A. B. Rouselle, Balboa, William Schumacher, Buena Park, J. W. Crill, Garden Grove and Holmes Bishop, Orange as an executive committee to form a county-wide campaign organization.

More Taxes Anyway

In contrast to the picture drawn by Mr. Etcheverry, J. E. Lewis, Yorba Linda, said that whether the bonds are voted or not, taxes are bound to increase. He told of the annual overdraft on the underground water supply and said the time will come when thousands of acres will be forced out of production through lack of water if it is not conserved. This is no dream, he said, but a reality which already has come to the San Joaquin valley, where lack of water has forced 56,000 acres out of production.

When thousands of acres cease producing, they can no longer pay taxes. This will mean that the land which continues in use will have to shoulder the extra burden. Thus, Mr. Lewis showed, taxes are bound to increase. If the bonds are voted, the county will have something to show for the added tax burden, but if they are not approved, higher taxes will come without added benefits, he explained.

Supervisor N. E. West, Laguna Beach, called attention to the constantly lowering water levels. He estimated that farm areas of the county spend $300,000 annually in increased pumping costs to bring the water from greater and greater depths. If the increased costs for cities are added, the annual expense would be $400,000 or $500,000, he estimated.

Kellogg Tells Stand George Kellogg, Yorba Linda, an American Legion member, said the Legion is vitally interested in flood protection. Last year in a nearby county a flood occurred and an American Legion hall was turned into a hospital for refugees, he said; but the hospital itself was washed away and people in it were killed. The American Legion doesn't want anything like that to happen on the Santa Ana river, said Mr. Kellogg.

Supervisor W. C. Jerome outlined the recent history of the water project and said he hoped that within the next few days news of its approval for federal aid might come directly before the President instead of the allotment board, because there is some doubt whether this board ever will meet again, said Mr. Jerome. The board is merely advisory and has no official jurisdiction, he explained. The army engineers have approved the application for aid to the extent of $6,374,000.

MORE ABOUT ETHIOPIA

fies Italy in menacing us with war. We have come before the bar of international justice with clean consciences.

"Let mankind judge us on our record. Let no pretended leader of Christendom attempt to cry out for justice and mercy."

The Associated Press correspondent asked "Premier Mussolini says he wishes to civilize Ethiopia; what does your majesty say to that?"

"God Forbid That!" Waiting until the brass band heading his marching troops had ceased playing the national anthem, Haile Selassie said slowly and reflectively:

"God forbid that Italy should give us such a civilization through the instrumentality of war. One is the negation of the other."

"Our own civilization is one in which Christ Himself lived. If it was suited for the greatest man of all time it is good for us."

"By this, I do not wish to say we oppose social and economic progress. Such progress has continued and will continue with all the rapidity compatible with the political and intellectual advancement of our people within our limited financial resources."

The correspondent asked: "If, despite all efforts by the League to make peace, war should come, are you ready to defend the empire?"

"The king of kings bowed his head meditatively and replied:

"Last Drop of Blood"

"Our liberty and our life, which had their origin in the sacred soil of Jerusalem long before the Roman empire was born, are precious to us beyond all other considerations. We will defend them to the last drop of blood."

DUCE MAY OFFER SUBSTITUTE PLAN

GENEVA, Sept. 20. (AP)—Certain French sources here said today they believed Premier Mussolini would not give a flat "no" to the League of Nations compromise plan for settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute, but would suggest a substitute.

Although this view was not shared unanimously by the French, one of them said: "Premier Mussolini may reply, 'Your plan is idiotic but I am willing to discuss some other one.'"

LABOR SESSION ENDING TODAY

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 20. (AP)—With the ranking officials re-elected to office, the California State Federation of Labor winds up its annual convention today.

Edward D. Vandeleur, San Francisco, was returned without opposition as president, and Paul Scharenberg, San Francisco, smashed opposition to the left wing group headed by Harry Bridges to go into his twenty-sixth term as secretary and treasurer.

SEEKS NEW TRIAL FOR TWO MEN

Declaring that he had obtained new evidence since the trial, N. D. Meyer, attorney for Faustino Saucido and Frank Rosa, recently convicted of kidnapping and assaulting Mrs. Mickey Dean, 31, moved for a new trial before Judge H. G. Ames, department one, superior court, today.

Mr. Meyer filed the motion when Rosa and Saucido appeared for pronouncement of judgment, and Judge Ames set Sept. 27 at 11 a. m. as the date for hearing arguments on the motion. He also continued pronouncement of judgment until that time.

GUNMEN 'NAP' DOG HERE Take Canine From Back Yard

"I want an officer. Somebody's 'napped' my dog."

This call came to police yesterday from Mrs. William Maker, 114 Private street, Santa Ana, and the "dognaping" case was turned over to Poundmaster Harold Pickering for investigation.

Mr. Pickering said today that the case has him puzzled.

"I am in a fog," he remarked. "Yesterday, while Mrs. Maker had her dog tied to a truck in her back yard, two men drove up in a car. One of them got out and untied the dog and put him in the car. The dognapers then drove away, and that is the last seen of the dog. Mrs. Maker told me that one of the men had a revolver, and started to shoot the dog, but his companion yelled at him to bring the dog along.

"Mrs. Maker does not know why anyone would want her dog, and she failed to get the license number of the car the dognapers were riding in."

'BEANIE' PRIZE DUE SATURDAY

Tomorrow at 10 a. m. in Vanderma's downstairs boys store, the winners in the boys' "beanie" contest will be chosen. The judges in the contest are reported to be hard-boiled, and from all reports they don't scare easily, either. Chief of Police Floyd Howard, City Clerk Ed Vegely, and Bill Foote, Santa Ana High school coach, are the judges.

In case there is some doubt as to what it is, a "beanie" resembles an inverted bowl, only it usually is made from cloth or leather. It is worn on the head, and no doubt has a purpose. The object of the contest is to have a "beanie" of original design. The boy with the best "beanie" will be awarded a regulation football as a prize.

The second prize is a tennis racket, and the third prize is a model airplane set. There also will be a surprise prize.

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

Perhaps we didn't read our schoolbooks, but we found lots of things that we didn't know in an old history of the county—mostly about Anaheim.

Of course, everybody's already heard that it's the oldest community in the county and has the oldest newspaper, and all that. But how about the guy who once sold Catalina Island to the British, only to drop dead before the papers were signed? That's an interesting story, in itself.

The history tells of one Major Max Strobel, who started in 1869, trying to form Anaheim county. Many big people of the district were interested in the scheme, and at the opening of the state legislature for 1869-70, sent the major to Sacramento, where he presented a bill for formation of the county.

The bill passed the assembly early in the session, and Anaheim "became a political mecca for office-seeking pilgrims. Statesmen from Los Nietos and place-hunters from San Juan counseled with the patriots of Anaheim and paroled out the prospective county officers between them."

However, opposition developed in the senate, when residents of Los Angeles county woke up to the fact that a rich district might be taken away from them. The major started needing more money for his fight, the history states, and "Gold would win, and gold he must have, or all would be lost. The envious and uncharitable queried as to what had become of all the coin Strobel had taken with him and intimated that he had been 'fighting the tiger' in the jungles of Sacramento and the tiger had the best of it. But the faithful gathered together their hard-earned shekels, and the proceeds of many a gallon of wine, the price of many a bronco and many a bullock were sent to Strobel that he might convince the honest legislators of the richness and resources of the new county."

However, word was received by "the lumbering old stage coach with its load of tri-weekly mail," that the bill had been defeated in the senate.

And so there wasn't any Anaheim county.

"The major deserves more than passing notice. A soldier of fortune and a Machiavel in politics, he was always on the losing side," the history continues.

He prospected for oil in Brea canyon—was one of the first to do so—"where, if he did not strike oil, he struck the bottoms of the purses of those whom he enlisted in the scheme." The later years' gushers were struck on the site of his earlier explorations.

And then came the Catalina Island business.

"Supplied with funds by the owners and rich mineral specimens from the island, he sailed for England and located in London. He succeeded in convincing a syndicate of English capitalists of the wealth and other resources of the island and negotiated its sale for one million dollars. . . . When the hour came for closing the transaction, Strobel did not appear. Search was made for him. He was found in his room dead, dead on the very eve of his success, for the sale of the island would have made him rich. . . . Nearly 20 years after his death the island sold for one-quarter of what he was to receive."

Also in the history is many interesting facts about founding of Anaheim. The Los Angeles Vineyard company, in 1857, bought a 1200-acre tract of land from Don Pacifico Ontivera. The company included 50 shareholders, who had contributed $750 for each share.

Incidentally, it is pointed out that the colony was named "Anaheim" before anyone was living there, thus destroying the belief that it was named for the first child born there, Anna Fischer. The name really means "home by the river," the history says.

In 1858 a newspaper account of work going on in the new colony says that 88 men, 10 women, 85 horses, seven plows and 17 wagons were on the property.

Daily expenses reached the unbelievable high of $216 during height of the development work. They built a fence, five and one-half miles long, completely around the colony, using willow poles, which eventually grew into a living wall. The fence was necessary to keep out tens of thousands of cattle which were roaming over the plains.

"Anaheim was incorporated as a city Feb. 10, 1870, but a city government was too great a burden for the people to carry." So, in 1872 the state legislature disincorporated it.

Which is the history of a community.

During the first seven months of 1935, business and residential construction in Norfolk, Va., was greater than the combined totals of 1933 and 1934.

SEATTLE SPEAKER TALKS ON GOD'S BLESSING

This does not mean that the Christian Scientist closes his eyes to the evils that are apparent in the world. Far from it. The understanding which Christian Science brings makes one more keenly conscious of the need of getting rid of all that is unlike the Mind of Christ. Instead of teaching that evil is as real or powerful as good, or more real or powerful than good, it makes clear that evil can and must be overcome by the diligent practice of good. Thus

Christian Science teaches that man's true individuality is the reflection of the divine Mind, the image and likeness of God. The true individuality is spiritual and perfect. Individual character is far more potent, far more real and tangible, than mere corporeality. What is it that you appreciate in your friends? Do you not seek the qualities of thought? The selflessness, the nobility, the intelligence, the fidelity, which you see expressed by those with whom you are associated—these are qualities material? Obviously not. Do they belong to corporeality? No. Do not such qualities as these truly represent your

A number of instances are on record during the latter days of the Christian era, as well as in the earlier days, wherein Christlike characters have experienced healing by spiritual means. Mrs. Eddy's experience, however, is outstanding for this reason, that she was thereby impelled to find out how this healing had been accomplished, and she was directed for a definite understanding of the divine Mind which had healed her. Mrs. Eddy showed absolute consecration to the spiritual ideal to which her life was devoted. She healed through spiritual means alone many cases of supposedly hopeless disease. These practical

Many daily newspapers today are freely publishing quotations from the Bible. Some newspapers are doing this every day. This is, indeed, good news. Wherever the Bible is read aright it brings a fuller measure of light and spiritual progress. Men, women, and children, rich and poor, the educated and the uneducated, find therein the bread and water of Life. Speaking of the Bible, Mrs. Eddy writes in her book "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 363), "The Bible, is the learned man's master-

From the many healings resulting from the reading of Science and Health, which have come to my attention, is the following, related to me by a good friend of mine. He had been a successful lawyer in one of America's large cities, but he had become addicted to the use of opium and drugs. In his distress resulting from enslavement to these habits, he was tempted to end what he believed to be his life. He decided, however, at this time to go to a Christian Science Reading Room, where he found Science and Health. He read the book and came to these words of Mrs. Eddy, page 250: "Man is not God, but like a ray of light which comes from the sun, man, the outcome of God, reflects God." He was instantaneously healed of the desire to use drugs. A few weeks later, as he continued to study Science and Health, he was cured of the desire for liquor. He found a new joy in living. These healings proved to be permanent.

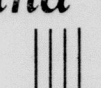

Christian Science presents the fundamental fact that God is All-in-all, and that man is God's image and likeness. The practice of Christian Science, the intelligent utilization of this fact in the healing of disease, and in all the details of living. You can see, then, that Christian Science is essen-

Abraham's Chaldean countrymen defied the sun and the moon and the stars. Abraham departed from that pagan worship when he discerned the one true God. At one time God had led Abraham forth and said to him, "Look now toward heaven, and tell the stars, if thou be able to number them;" and continuing, God said, "So shall thy seed be." May we not conclude that God was giving to Abraham a helpful lesson as to the infinitude of God's universe and man? Is it any wonder that he should have been so influenced in his affairs? As we understand the infinitude, the spirituality of God's universe and man, limitations will drop off, and we shall prove more fully our possibilities as children of God. As yet we have just begun to do this, but it is well to see the possibilities of the patient, trusting, trusting God to how us the way.

God's universe is spiritual. The mistake is with mortals, who wrongly believe that it is material. Mortals, viewing the universe materially, conceive that it

WAR THREATS CAUSE LOSS IN STOCKS

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (AP)—Selling waves hit the stock market with such force today that prices, at their worst, tumbled 1 to 5 or more points.

The slump was attributed largely to darkening European war clouds, but partly to the fact that, due to the length and rapid advance, a sizable technical correction had been long overdue.

Sporadic rallies were attempted at intervals but these were halfhearted. In excited trading the ticker tape at one time dropped 5 minutes behind floor transactions. There were subsequent quiet periods as leaders strained at recovery.

Among the more active share leaders, off 1 or 2 or 3 or 5, were Du Pont, American Can, Johnson, Manville, Pullman, American Telephone, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Western Union, Consolidated Gas, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse, General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Liggett & Myers, B. Santa Fe and U. S. Smelting. The rails showed a little more resistance than other groups.

Brokers said that much selling was of a speculative nature and many long-pull holders were not inclined to panicky action.

Grain Market

CHICAGO, Sept. 20. (AP)—Vague and apparently baseless reports Mussolini had postponed for three weeks a final decision as to Ethiopia tumbled wheat prices down 2 1/2 cents temporarily today.

However, most of the wheat market losses were offset by a recovery on renewed speculative buying. There was also fairly good buying believed to be for northwest wheat.

Wheat closed nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 1/2 lower, December 190 1/2-191 1/2, corn off 1/4 to 3/4, December 58 1/2-59 1/2, oats unchanged to 1/4 lower, and provisions varying from 12 cents decline to a rise of 22 cents.

DISTRICT RED CROSS UNIT ORGANIZED

An organization meeting of the Orange County Council of the American Red Cross was held yesterday afternoon at the Anaheim city hall, attended by two members of each of the chapters in Orange county. Following the election of officers, a budget of $2110 for the coming year was adopted. The national Red Cross contributes to the expense of the council.

The newly elected officers are: president, A. C. Balch, Anaheim; vice president, L. S. Verry, Fullerton; secretary, Mrs. Robert H. Johnson, Orange; treasurer, Dr. John Wehrly, Santa Ana.

The council is organized for the purpose of co-ordinating the work of the chapters and branches in this county, under the direction of a trained Red Cross worker, Mrs. Warren, whose employment as Red Cross agent for Orange county began Sept. 15, will organize membership campaigns in each of the chapters, and will give her efforts toward making them successful.

In each chapter, too, she is to have leadership in securing activity and results in the various departments, such as life saving, first aid, sewing of hospital garments, disaster relief and veterans relief.

Oilers Start Drive for So. Calif. Softball Championship Pennant

Column Left!

By FRANK ROGERS

Paragraphs: Johnny Martinez, who a year ago was a sensation in amateur punch circles, is coming back—aiming at a berth on the Olympic leather bridge. He is billed for a showing at the local arena as soon as he gets in shape. . . . He estimates will be in about a month. . . . He has been out of the racket for nine months, now weighs 220 pounds and works as a longshoreman at Wilmington. . . . Fans remember him as a clean boy and a corner. . . .

Treason: Pop Andres, a few weeks ago, was cheering his clever little Don Benzo, Anaheim, on to a pair of startling upsets over Lupe Cardoza, Southern California bantam champ. . . . Last night he was waving the towel for Cardoza as that gentleman pummeled Gilbert Lopez. . . .

Promoter Sam Sampson definitely promises a new and leak-proof room for his fightatorium soon. . . . last night's freak cloudburst scared the customers. . . .

About wrestling: Some new faces show up here Monday night at the local stadium. Steve Strelch meets Dr. Mulikan and you can have our personal word of assurance that a torrid tussle will result. . . . we've seen 'em go against each other several times. . . . Strelch, if things work out as expected, will be a bigger hero here than Nick Lutze. . . .

About baseball: Jim Detrixhe, one of the moving powers of the Stars, says his gang is going to work next year with but one thought in mind: "Beat the Oilers." "And we're gonna do it," said Jim on the recent "morning after." . . .

About most anything: Yes, all games of the world's series will be broadcast by the Columbia circuit. . . . Henry Ford paid $100,000 for the privilege. . . . Maybe they don't work on policemen, but hard luck stories tell a way with baseball ticket sellers. . . . In some of the 35,000 letters with applications for world's series tickets received thus far by Detroit, was this: "I promised to take my wife and mother-in-law last year and didn't. . . . so please let me get some tickets so I can get out of the dog house." Another fan offered 40 rosin checks to prove his faithfulness. . . .

About Baer-Louis: Max's share of the maybe-million-dollar prize fight game may be attached by one Shirley La Belle, whose counsel alleges—in a $50,000 suit—that the erstwhile champion assaulted her. . . . Joe was paid $50 for his first pro fight. . . . for licking Levinsky he got $47,700. . . . and he'll collect a quarter of a million next Tuesday night. . . . In 24 ring battles he's made $118,657 in less than a year. . . . Joe will take pride on a tour of Europe this winter if he wins.

Y.M.C.A. COURT PLANS GIVEN

Santa Ana's Church and Commercial basketball leagues, sponsored annually by the Y. M. C. A., will be limited to six teams each, it was decided in a meeting of managers last night. Entries must be filed with Secretary Ralph Smedley on or before Oct. 1.

Applications already have been received from the Woolen Mills, Shell Oil, Union Oil and Costa Mesa Food basket for the Commercial league. The First Christians, St. Peter's Lutheran, South Methodists and Latter Day Saints (Mormons) have applied for entrance in the Church league.

Play will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday beginning on the tentative date of Oct. 21. Two Commercial league games are planned for Tuesday nights; one game for each league on Wednesday; and two Church league contests on Thursdays.

MAX'S WIFE DUCKS

SPECULATOR, N. Y., Sept. 20. (P)—The forgotten woman of Max Baer's training camp is Mrs. Max Baer, but her background role is by choice. She isn't going to see her husband fight Joe Louis in the Yankee stadium Tuesday night. She and Max's mother plan to go to a movie. "I couldn't stand it," she said. Against her will she came here to the training camp. She wanted to go far away.

DON GRIDDERS START SEASON TONIGHT

PLAY COLTON TONIGHT IN INAUGURAL

Huntington Beach Nine Favored to Keep Flag in National League

Generally recognized as the favorite, Huntington Beach's Oilers of the National League begin the defense of their Southern California night league laurels against Colton's Red Lions of the American league in Colton at 8:15 o'clock tonight.

The second game of the four-out-of-seven series will be played at Huntington Beach Tuesday, and the third at Colton a week from tonight. A capacity crowd of 2500 is anticipated for the inaugural.

Botts vs. Neva

Two of the most effective choppers in the history of the game—Louie Neva of the Oilers, Venn Botts of the Lions—will burn 'em down the alley against a formidable collection of hitters.

If Joe Rodgers' 1934 champs overwhelm the Huntington contingent, they will keep the title here for the fifth consecutive season. Only twice have American league teams swept to the Southland pennant. Riverside turned the trick in 1928 by edging out the then-potent Long Beach Acorns in seven games. Colton trimmed Santa Ana in seven games in 1930. Since then, Santa Ana, Anaheim, Torrance and Huntington Beach have walked off with the honors.

Huntington Beach will employ the same lineup that defeated Santa Ana in seven games for the 1935 National league flag. Merv Lower will catch. Bob Smith will be at first, Henry Thier at second, Manager Rodgers at short, and Bill McKinley on third. George Murray, Orville Schuchardt and Paul Neva or Charley Zaby will roam the pastures.

Manager Hubert Finlay today announced a Colton lineup of "Lefty" Watson, Chet Stock, Fran Johnston and Ray Shaddox, infielders; Ray Emery and Vince Alexander, outfielders. Joe Strinati will catch. Schletzer, Whitebrook or Gilbert will fill the other outfield. Weiser may see service at third with Shaddox.

SAINT, ORANGE TEAMS CLASH

Santa Ana's Saints trotted out on Poly field against Orange's Panthers today in the first of six home stands on their 1935 football calendar.

Withdrawal of Glendale and Pasadena leaves Santa Ana with only three rivals in the Coast Preparatory league—Long Beach, San Diego and Alhambra—and two of the enemies will be fought in Santa Ana's own back-yard. Three non-league attractions, in addition to the tussle with Orange today, have been arranged.

The Bill Foto-Reece Greene henchmen make their first conference start at Long Beach against Orrian Landreth's Southern California prep champions Oct. 12. The other league encounters are billed here with Alhambra Nov. 2, San Diego Nov. 16.

The complete Coast league schedule and Saint non-league skirmishes follow:
Sept. 29—Orange at Santa Ana.
Sept. 27—Pasadena Muir Tech at Santa Ana.
Oct. 5—Santa Ana at Inglewood.
Oct. 12—Santa Ana at Santa Barbara.
Oct. 19—Santa Ana at Long Beach.
Oct. 26—bye.
Nov. 2—Alhambra at Santa Ana (league game); San Diego at Phoenix, Ariz.
Nov. 8—Fullerton at Santa Ana.
Nov. 16—San Diego at Santa Ana; Alhambra at Long Beach (league games).
Nov. 22—Pomona at Santa Ana.
Nov. 23—bye.
Nov. 28—Long Beach at San Diego.

FOOTBALL FLASHES

KEY LOST TO BRUIINS? LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20. (P)—The Bruins of University of California at Los Angeles received another jolt today when it was learned that Ted Key, smashing 190-pound fullback, may be lost from the squad for a month. With Young Bill Spaulding, son of the C. L. A. coach, on the sidelines with an injured back, Key was placed in temporary retirement with a neck injury. He spent last night in Hollywood hospital. The back was hurt carrying the ball in scrimmage. Recurrence of an old leg trouble sent Spaulding out of practice for at least a week.

BAER 'READY' FOR LOUIS; JOE STALE

Scribes Feel Negro Is Not Working Enough; Max Tapering Off

By EDWARD J. NEIL
SPECULATOR, N. Y., Sept. 20. (P)—The big do-or-die kid from California, Max Baer, was as ready today as he ever will be for the fight of his life Tuesday night against the chocolate soldier, Joe Louis.

As far as preparing himself is concerned, that's behind, left-handed with yesterday's rough-and-tumble four-round workout against George Turner and Abe Feldman.

Starts Easing Off
Today and the rest of the week bring the easing-off process, a little boxing, a little exercise, a little road work, a little ale and lots of rest to store up animal energy.

No one ever saw Max in finer physical condition. No one ever saw him more serious, more determined. All but a faint trace, now and then of his old high-spirited clowning is gone.

He's grim faced, he talks the seriousness of the fight all the time, or the fact that this is the cross roads for him, that $500,000 rests in the balance in future earnings.

Baer in Shape
Dr. William Walker of the New York state athletic commission, has announced Baer in superb condition, far better in ways medical men look for than before his lack-luster defeat by Jimmy Braddock. His blood pressure is lower, his reflexes faster. His muscles are sharper; his huge body is trim, hard as cement.

Those close to him say that he'll roll down on Louis, as he smashed in to Schmeling and Carnener, hitting the Negro everywhere he can get a hand hold, from his knees to the top of his head.

LOUIS MAY BE STALE, SPORT SCRIBES FEEL

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Sept. 20. (P)—Joe Louis has fight critics guessing.

They can't quite figure out if the Brown Bomber is going a bit stale from lack of intensive training for his bout with Max Baer Tuesday.

The 21-year-old Detroit Negro boy thrives on action, but he's had little of it lately. He didn't box yesterday and he isn't scheduled to do any heavy work until tomorrow. Then his program calls for peace and quiet in the rolling Jersey hills.

Suspensions of staleness are based on Louis' attitude around the camp. The scribes say he is getting disagreeable too far in advance of the fight.

MISSIONS HOPE FOR MIRACLE

By the Associated Press
Although the opportunity-grabbing San Francisco Missions are making a gallant last-minute effort to snatch the second-half Coast league flag away from their fellow-townsmen, the Seals, they are bucking a tough foe in old man law of averages.

If the Missions, with three straight against the Stars already to their credit, perform the near impossible and grand-slam the closing series, the Seals could still win by beating the Indians three times, allowing two more losses.

The Missions moved up half a game on the leaders yesterday by smacking over Hollywood again, 13 to 5, after a six-run rally in the first inning, featured by homers by Oscar Eckhardt and Eddie Joost.

FANS BACK TROJANS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20. (P)—Two thousand Trojan supporters declared today that the old war horse of Troy is far from dead. The clan trooped out to watch Coach Howard Jones' pupils go through their inaugural scrimmage. They came away, not so sure the Trojan football machine will roll itself into the Rose Bowl this season, but at least that it will give a better account of itself than in 1934. The Jones men ran all plays from a balanced line, first that the Trojans have used, and the squirrel cage huddle is gone.

CUBS FIGHT JINX AS LEAD STRETCHED; CARDS WIN

By HUGH S. FULLERTON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago Cubs, riding on the crest of a victory wave big enough to give almost any club the jitters, must be hoping that a certain part of baseball history won't be repeated.

The Cubs extended their winning streak to 16 straight yesterday by walloping the third-place Giants, 6 to 1, to make a grand slam of their games against the four eastern clubs.

No National league team has won that many games in succession since 1916, when the Giants set the major league record of 26 straight at home and added 17 triumphs on the road. Brooklyn, not New York, won the pennant that year.

While they were ripping the Giants to pieces yesterday behind

SAILOR HIPPS OUTPUNCHES HERRERA

Cordoza Trims Lopez In Fast Meeting; Navy's Boys Score Again

By FRANK ROGERS
Boxing Promoter Sam Sampson did his part in the city's fall fashion stunt last night by parading some samples of what the faithful fight fan can expect for the next couple of months.

Making his bow as promoter-matchmaker, Sampson staged a sparkling program that proved all boxing needed here was his magic touch. Things clicked off in fine shape with few substitutions and dull fights were at a strict minimum. Winners of the two top bouts have been re-carded here.

Herrera Falls

Only disappointment was Frankie Herrera, Los Alamitos, who put himself back into the ranks of the mediocre when he took a dull thumping from Sailor Jack (Swivel) Hipps, plodding tar from the U. S. S. Pensacola. All the action in the rematch affair, in which Herrera had hoped to avenge a close licking of last week, was stuffed into the fourth stanza.

As the fog started rolling in for Herrera and he commenced to melt under Hipps' steady driving, the sailor boy connected with a right jab. Frankie took a nine-count to think things over and when he got up his chances had taken flight. Hipps went on to win handily.

Lupe Cordoza, ever the dynamic atom, outpunched Wilmington's Gil Lopez in the evening's fastest and best battle. Lupe, a favorite from start, must have been surprised the spindly little Lopez absorbed all the dynamite from the lightning left and rattling right of the Southern California bantamweight champion. In the fourth, Lupe's stinging southpaw slashed Lopez's left ear and forced the game harbor boy down for a four-count. The fans screamed approval at Lopez for his game stand.

Navy Does Well

It was another gala night for the navy lads, three of the four boys who swept the fistie decks here last week returned and again captured landlubbers. Sailor (Never) Dye won, but with little reason, over Jack Wolford, Huntington Park heavyweight, in a full mixup.

A genuine cloudburst descended as Sailor Bowen started his fight with Eddie Martinez, Wilmington, but the seagoing fourth wasn't deterred and outpunched his rival for a handy win. Lasting all through this—and only this—but the rain drenched quickly vacated seats under a two-foot opening in the canvas covering of the arena and gave spectators in the gallery a few anxious moments when one or two leaks developed. There were no casualties.

Manuel Lujan, Los Alamitos, went down for a nine-count breather in the third round of his go with Clyde Wallace, blond, skinny Huntington Park, and lost the decision. Wallace set a zippy pace, punched often but not hard with his toothpick arms.

Jimmy Dolan was nearly as unimpressive as his brother, Jackie, who was kayoed by Danny Ramirez of Wilmington in the opener. Jimmy looked like a punk in taking a beating from Tino Munos, Anaheim. Danny atoned for his rival once—with a one-two series—although he touched canvas twice in the fourth before Referee Bob Smith halted the mess.

They should have put gates on the ring for Art Hernandez, who spent much time crawling out of the ropes in losing to Ray Gonzalez, clever Huntington Park lad. Hernandez was outside three times—chased and shoved there by Gonzalez.

LASKEY LOSES TO RETZLAFF

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 20. (P)—Art Laskey, Minneapolis heavyweight, appeared estranged today, if not divorced, from the top ranks of the boxing business through a second technical knockout defeat at the former fists of Charley Retzlaff. His second tussle in the towel in the tenth and final round last night, Retzlaff's bombarding right battered Laskey to the brink of a knockout often.

Pasadena Here for First Turf Tussle

By PAUL WRIGHT
Pasadena and Santa Ana Junior colleges, with more than their share of Southern California championships in back of them, tangle for the first time as non-conference football rivals inside the Municipal bowl at 8 o'clock tonight.

The Bulldogs, tutored by Trojan Bob McNeish, who was at San Bernardino last fall, have not met Coach Bill Cook's Dons since Santa Ana shifted from the Western to the Eastern division in 1932.

Not only do the invaders expect to win this particular game for their new mentor, but they hope to gain an edge in athletic relations which began with the Dons back in 1927, Cook's first year here.

Pasadena Free Lances
Pasadena no longer belongs to the Western conference. Operating under the 6-4-4 plan, and thereby receiving talent with junior and senior classification in high school, as well as regular junior college athletes, the Bulldogs are free-lancing this term.

As Western division rivals Santa Ana and Pasadena fought five times. Each won a pair, one struggle ending in a deadlock. The records:

1927—Pasadena 13, Santa Ana 8; 1928—Santa Ana 12, Pasadena 12; 1929—Santa Ana 6, Pasadena 9; 1930—Santa Ana 7, Pasadena 9; 1931—Pasadena 15, Santa Ana 12.

Pasadena is the only junior college ever to win the Southland flag three times. The Bulldogs came through in '26, '28 and '32. Santa Ana and Compton are runners-up. The Dons were supreme in '29 and '33, while Compton's Tartars ruled the roost in '30 and '31.

The nocturnal feud tonight should reveal to a minor degree, at least—whether either collection has sufficient material to carry itself to the top again.

Many Receive Chance

Coaches Cook and Al Rebohn plan to give every deserving Don a chance, which means more than 30 Santa Anans will participate. Joe Herbert, cool freshman from Fullerton, has been nominated to start at quarterback, with all-conference Walt Hickman, 190-pounder, going to full.

Hickman was slated to play inside half, but this position requires plenty of blocking, and Walt has a slightly wrenched back. Alvin Lamb, stocky ex-Saint, and John Lehnhardt, the sweet number from Garden Grove, are due to open at half. Bruce Harlow and Oliver McCarter, safeties, and Dick Moore and Fred Lentz, fullbacks, will be among the others to receive an early test.

Tentative starters on the line are Bob Spray of Tustin and Al Tinsor of Santa Ana, ends; Clarence Bolton of Santa Ana and Ray Devine of Garden Grove, tackles; Howard Rash or Dick De-

HACIENDA WOMAN WINS IN LOCAL GOLF

Mrs. John DeLand, visitor from the Hacienda club, carded a 102-23-79 to win medal play for ladies at the Santa Ana Country club yesterday. Mrs. J. K. McDonald of Huntington Beach, 96-16-80, and Mrs. Roy Langley of Santa Ana, 102-22-80, annexed second golf honors.

COUNTY W. C. T. U. HEAD CHALLENGES GROUP TO GREATER EFFORT

LEADERS TELL WORK DONE BY DRYS

Legislative Campaign Recounted By Craig And Mrs. Wheeler

Impetus was given the work of the Women's Christian Temperance union in Orange county yesterday by three speakers who challenged delegates at the Forty-sixth annual county convention, in session at the First Methodist church. Mrs. Lola Grimm, county president, gave the keynote address in the afternoon. Edward Craig, Brea, speaker of the state assembly, and Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, state W. C. T. U. president, made the evening talks on "The Last Legislature and What Was Done."

Drawing an analogy between the Bible story of Jacob and Esau and the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment, Mrs. Grimm took "Our Heritage" as the subject of her address.

"Isaac, the father and ruler of his household is like unto the American people," Mrs. Grimm said, "for it shall be of the people, and by the people that we are governed."

"Rebecca, the mother and advisor is like unto the heads of our government. The administration, Esau represents prohibition and Jacob, his brother, anti-prohibition or the repeal forces."

Votes Are Blessing
"The covenant blessing we shall call the ballot-box, the votes."

"Isaac loved Esau, and the people loved prohibition and wrote it in our constitution as the eighteenth amendment, because it was good."

"Rebecca loved Jacob and repeal found favor in the eyes of the administration. Esau was commanded to prepare venison—such as his father loved—the same as the people loved truth."

"The kids or false propaganda, not venison of the truth," Mrs. Grimm continued, "were prepared into savory food and given to Isaac, the people. We were faced with false propaganda: 'There will be less drinking among the young people,' they said. Is that true? 'It will do away with the boot-legger.' Yet bootlegging is one of the most serious problems of the administration. 'Repeal will balance the budget.' Has it? 'Absorb vast numbers of unemployed.' There are 20 million still out of work and the United States department of labor claims more people on relief than any time during the last five years. 'Protect dry states.' But there are more than 5,000 federal licensed beer saloons in dry Kansas."

People Believed Propaganda
The propaganda passed off for truth, Mrs. Grimm contended, and with only one-fourth of the voters casting ballot, the repeal was passed.

"Immediately following the blessing," said Mrs. Grimm continuing the analogy, "Esau, with his venison, returned, Jacob realizing he had been deceived trembled very exceedingly. That is our picture today, and we too tremble when we see the truth."

"What will be done? Will we, as Esau of old say, 'Bless me—even me also' or through our silence give approval to political deception? Will Isaac give another blessing and that blessing be greater than the first, that we, through our vote, will have

50-LB. BOX OF DYNAMITE WORRIES ARMY OFFICERS
LONG BEACH.—Investigators sought today to trace the origin of a 50-pound box of dynamite found under a bridge near the $100,000 army air corps reserve base. HAWAII SUPPLIES MOTIF FOR PARTY OF CHURCH AID
From Hawaii came the atmosphere for the party at which officers of the southwest section of the First Presbyterian church were hostesses yesterday afternoon, when they entertained in the gardens of the home of Mrs. J. R. Moore, 424 West Second street.

Members of other sections of the church ladies' aid were invited to be guests at the affair. More than 100 attended.

The lawn had been decorated with bamboo and banana trees. Some of the hostesses donned Hawaiian costumes and the program followed the motif. Hosmar's Hawaiian players gave numbers, followed by readings from Don Blanding's poems by Mrs. Frances D. Frothingham. Miss Ruth Armstrong gave a group of ukulele selections. Mrs. Nettie French showed souvenirs and gave a talk on the islands.

The party was given by Mrs. L. E. Barry, president, and her staff of officers, including Mesdames Roy Johnson, Wayne West, M. B. Hamilton, Edwin McFadden, J. C. Winans, Cynthia Davis, Charles Gammell, Fred Miller, L. M. Forcey, R. G. Bond and the Misses Louise Friedly, Leslie Smith and Louise Brokaw.

Judges were Mrs. Edna McGarvin, Mrs. Mona Sumner, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Estelle Harper, Garden Grove.

Craig Tells Difficulties
Praising the work of Mrs. Wheeler, Speaker Craig outlined the difficulties surrounding the passage of the bills on public morals which were considered at the last session of the legislature. Continued achievements of Mrs. Wheeler would realize the purpose of the unions, the speaker believed.

"California is a fertile field for your work," Speaker Craig said. "And you citizens of Orange county are particularly fortunate in having courageous, public spirited representatives in Sacramento. They are prominent in efforts made toward better moral conditions and should be actively supported by the W. C. T. U."

Praise for Orange County
Concluding her talk with the statement that "Orange county gave more help to the campaign against liquor in the last legislature than any other county in the state because of its 'bone dry' congressman," Mrs. Wheeler told of her work at Sacramento.

"Justification, in itself, for my eight weeks' at the state capital was the passage of the alcohol education bill," Mrs. Wheeler said. "It provides for the best alcohol education of any state in the country," she declared.

"Systematic instruction must be given in all grades from the fourth grade up in alcohol education," she said. "Schools must buy the text books for the instruction and the state school board must supply a text book on the subject. If a teacher refuses to teach the information, her certificate can be revoked," Mrs. Wheeler declared.

"We were able to kill bills making divorce and marriage easy, and pass laws that protected homes and children. I was there representing not only the W. C. T. U., but 19 protestant religious, and when the churches can get together, they can get the legislation they want, because they represent votes."

Musical numbers were given by Howard Jerome, Ira W. MacNames, and Harold Kyle of Placentia, accompanied by Mrs. Kyle, Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh and Miss Margaret Davies sang at the afternoon session.

First prize in the Gold Medal oratorical contest held in the afternoon under direction of Mrs. C. D. Hicks went to Ruane Neighor, who gave a reading, "The Making of Our Country's Flag."

Others in the competition were Doris Jacobs, Patricia Flaherty, Dorothy Tubbs, Ruth Anderson and Gene Lawrence.

WAR, GAMING OPPOSED BY P.-T.A. UNIT

200 Adopt Resolution Against Gambling And Conflicts

Two hundred members of the Fourth District Congress of Parents and Teachers went on record as opposing war and gambling yesterday afternoon when resolutions were passed at the school of instruction held in the Buena Park Congregational church.

Approval was given the stand taken by President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull to maintain peace, and the district urged the county board of supervisors and governing boards of municipalities to give careful thought to and consideration of the temptation being placed before school children with the present availability of marble games and other gambling devices.

Musical Program
Mrs. W. T. Kirven, Garden Grove, president, officiated. Mrs. Mabel Spizzy conducted a short musical program and outlined plans for a mothers' chorus in Anaheim, Fullerton, Orange, La Habra and Santa Ana. Roland Upton, superintendent of schools in Buena Park and chairman of the fathers' council for fourth district, officially welcomed the delegates.

Other speakers were Arthur Corey, assistant superintendent of county schools, and Mrs. Florence Holmes from the tuberculosis association of the county.

Presentation of life memberships was made by Mrs. F. H. Greenwood, Tustin, life membership chairman, to Mrs. G. N. Grier and Mrs. Mildred Backe, Anaheim, and to Mrs. L. L. Williams, Orange.

Business Session
District chairmen conducted conferences until noon when the meeting recessed for luncheon. A short afternoon business session was followed by solos by Mrs. J. W. Stanbury who sang "Absent" by John Metcalf, and "The Face in the Firelight" by Shackford, accompanied by Mrs. C. H. Smith at the organ.

A question box conducted by Mrs. W. R. Goddard, Los Angeles, corresponding secretary of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, closed the meeting.

TERMITE OPERATORS CAN AVOID EXAMS
Termite control operators who register prior to Oct. 1 will not be required to take an examination before being granted a license, according to an announcement today by Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs. Under a law which became operative Sept. 15 all such operators must be licensed.

Announcement of the registration requirement was made to Mr. Tubbs by William G. Bonelli, director of the state department of professional and vocational standards.

Mr. Tubbs said that since the legislature has provided an agency to regulate the business of structural pest control, the county agricultural offices will no longer make inspections of premises for termites. The office, however, will continue the identification of specimens brought into the office.

CHEST DRIVE STARTED BY WORKERS

Campaigners Hoping to Raise 60 Per Cent of the Goal Early

Solicitation in the Community Chest campaign was definitely under way today. Volunteer workers of division No. 1, headed by W. B. Williams, have started calling on 450 special prospects. The goal of their effort is to raise 60 per cent of the $32,225 Chest quota, which is to support seven major welfare and relief organizations in this city.

This division plans to complete its work in two weeks. The workers will meet for their first report next Tuesday night at the Chest headquarters on North Sycamore street.

Chairmen Meet
Company chairmen who will carry on solicitation among their fellow workers met last night at Chest headquarters for final instructions. This group is the third to launch its campaign. The branch house division headed by Harold S. Wright started its work a week ago.

In starting his workers off, Mr. Williams said, "It is conceded that the Community Chest is the logical and sensible way in which to adequately support our private character building and relief agencies. It is economical both in time and in money. The goal is much less than this community should raise for the support of these agencies and we as a community must succeed this year."

Glad to Have Part
"Every man and woman," Mr. Williams stated, "should be glad to have a part in supporting this necessary work of human betterment and this group, the advance corps in an army of a thousand workers, I am sure will accept its responsibility with every prospect subscribing to the limit of his or her financial ability."

Workers in this division, now in the field, include: C. H. Chapman, Brad Hellis, Alex Brownridge, A. C. Hasenjaeger, W. A. Taylor, Harry Ball, Hugh J. Lowe, Homer C. Chaney, J. B. Tucker, Charles F. Smith, O. H. Barr, C. L. Pritchard, T. E. Stephenson, R. G. Cartwright, R. B. Newcom, Mrs. F. E. Conlter, George Dunton, W. D. Baker, Wm. H. Spurgeon, Jr., Otto F. Schroeder, C. W. Baxter, M. B. Wellington, Harry W. Lewis, B. V. Curry and J. H. Finley.

FHA LOAN RULES CLARIFIED HERE

Amended rules governing issuing of insured mortgages under title two of the national housing act permit prospective borrowers to employ services of brokers in arranging for loans, and to pay the brokers for this service.

This clarification of the rules by Federal Housing Administrator Stewart McDonald was made public here by James Berry, field representative for the Federal Housing administration.

Previously the rules did not in any way prohibit a prospective borrower from employing a broker but there was some doubt in the minds of real estate men as to whether such an arrangement was permitted, Mr. Berry said.

JURY DECIDES AIR KILLING JUSTIFIED

Manslaughter Charges Dismissed As Pair Cleared of Blame

TORONTO, Sept. 20. (AP)—A coroner's jury ruled today that the Detroit airmen, William J. Mulqueeny and Irwin Davis, acted in self-defense when they fought Len Koencke, ball player for the Brooklyn Dodgers, to death Tuesday in an airplane.

Manslaughter charges against them were subsequently dismissed.

The jury under Coroner Dr. Warren Snyder listened in suburban Islington to evidence that the big league baseball player attacked Pilot Mulqueeny and his companion while flying from Detroit to Buffalo.

Prof. Joslyn Rogers, chemical analyst of the University of Toronto, giving evidence that Koencke was intoxicated, said that "if there was any tendency at all for a man to be violent or quarrelsome," Koencke was in "excellent condition for it to break out."

Both airmen, granted immunity by the court, told again the details of Koencke's attack, their efforts to keep the plane from crashing, and of the fight in which the baseball player was struck down with a fire extinguisher.

PATTERN 9368

Here's one cotton-picker that's found both north and south of the Mason-Dixon line, and quite a "find" it is, too. It tells a tailored story in cotton, and is easy to make, as you'll soon discover. The bodice gathers to a yoke that's in one with the pleated sleeves. Back bodice boasts an action-pleat, which relieves a lot of strain when you're dusting off those top shelves. Action pleats in the skirt give plenty of width. Percale, cotton broadcloth, a pretty novelty cotton or seersucker will just about "cover" the house-frock situation. Complete. Diagrammed. Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9368 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 4 yards 36-inch fabric.

FATHER SHOT BY GIRL IN SQUABBLE

Hollywood Model, 18, Is Held After Argument Leads to Shooting

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 20. (AP)—Blonde Lois Elaine Zachary, 18-year-old Hollywood model, was free on $1000 bond today awaiting a hearing Oct. 3 on a charge of shooting her father, Roy R. Zachary, 42, during a family quarrel.

Mr. Zachary, real estate man, was wounded by two bullets and his condition was believed critical. A squabble between Mr. Zachary and his wife, Myrtle, led to the shooting, authorities said, and Deputy District Attorney Gordon Thompson quoted the girl as saying:

"I was afraid he would kill mother, so I shot him."
"It was all my fault—please release my daughter," the wounded parent told sheriff's officers.

CHURCH FOLK SHOW SPIRIT

All Work to Save Building

They did it in Lincoln's time. So the folks from the Church of the Brethren decided they could, too.

They didn't have a "church raising," but they did a thorough job of repairing the church building at Camille and Ross.

The building was infested with termites. Unless the onslaught of the wood insects was checked, the building wouldn't last long. To have it done would cost more than $600. The materials amounted to only $265. So they brought out their hammers and their saws and set to the task.

A day off from a regular job meant that time to be spent on the church repairs. If they could get away for a Saturday afternoon, they grabbed a box of nails and hustled to the church site. Rotten wood was torn out. Fresh clean boards were tacked in their place. Half of the church was re-roofed. The entire building was repainted. Even cementing was managed by the church congregation.

Under direction of Asbury Hendard, the work progressed, all members offering time or money to its accomplishment. This week saw the completion of the job, so that this Sunday the congregation will pay their weekly visit with a feeling of possession.

BUSINESS MEN PLAN CHEST ACTIVITY

Representatives of more than 3000 employees in Santa Ana met last night at Community Chest headquarters on North Sycamore street and planned their part of the fund raising campaign. They will carry on an educational program among their fellow employees during the next week. Their part of the work is to be completed prior to Oct. 6, when the final intensive campaign begins.

W. K. Hilliard, president of the Chest organization, stressed the need for an united community in meeting the needs of the seven social agencies which participate in the Chest. He also explained that support of the Chest is urged from every employed person in proportion to financial ability, and only as each individual realizes his responsibility and desire to participate. He told the chairman they have an opportunity to lead many persons to a better vision of life and to take an active part in making Santa Ana a better community in which to live.

STAMBAUGH FACING 2ND ROBBERY COUNT IN ALHAMBRA

Russell Stambaugh, arrested with his wife, Sybil, in San Francisco following a hunt lasting for more than a year, was taken to Alhambra Thursday to face charges of robbery. Stambaugh and Eugene Andress, Los Angeles, both face charges of robbery in Santa Ana.

When the Stambaughs first were arrested it was suspected that Mrs. Stambaugh had participated in the robbery a year ago of two department store employees here. However, charges against Mrs. Stambaugh were dropped, and she was transferred to Alhambra to await trial on charges of participating with her husband in the robbery of an Alhambra department store.

THE TEAM THAT CLICKS

SCENE: Any football field.
Time: Any day during the football season.
The great bowl is filled with cheering thousands.
The whistle blows. There's the kick-off. The ball spirals through the air. A man catches it. His interference is beside him in a jiffy. They dash for the opposite end of the field. There's excellent blocking when the enemy threatens. Nice run when the ball is downed finally, far into the enemy territory. They go into a huddle. They line up. Signals are called and the ball is snapped. The team clicks—every man. Maybe it's a lateral pass, a forward pass, an end run, a smash through the line. No matter what comes, the team clicks. They are thinking, acting together. Fighting, squirming, dodging—but going places. Then the touchdown and the roar from the stands.

"WHY talk football on this page?" you ask.
Because it's life—the life of a community that makes good and goes places.

It's the kind of a life Santa Ana and Orange county need more of.

In Santa Ana there are three matters occupying the attention of its residents—two bond issues and a Community Chest drive.

One bond issue proposed is to raise funds with which to match money from the government for a flood control and water conservation program, to save the beautiful land in which we are privileged to live.

The second bond issue proposes to raise funds to protect the lives of our children in the High school. They are now housed in two buildings which state architects declare unsafe in case of a severe earthquake like that of 1933.

The Community Chest drive is our annual contribution toward the support of character-building institutions.

The entire life and happiness of our community is wrapped up in these three issues which we are to decide during the next month.

"BUT," you say, "taxes already are too high. And besides we have lived here all these years without a flood control or a water conservation project and we don't need to be scared about either now. We can't insure ourselves against everything. The risk is cheaper than the insurance."

Well, maybe we can afford to take the chance—and maybe we can't. In 1916 a flood reaching a peak flow of 45,000 second feet in the Santa Ana river inundated a large part of the coastal plain, doing damage in excess of $1,800,000 to some 53,000 acres of highly developed agricultural land. Since then the population has more than doubled and property values have quadrupled.

And as to water conservation: Every town in the county and most of the irrigated area derive their water supply from underground basins. In the central part of the main basin supplied by the Santa Ana river the water level has dropped 100 feet since 1922. In the fall of 1934 the average water level was generally less than 20 feet above sea level and for a strip about twenty miles long extending back about five miles from the coast, the water level stands at about sea level. During the pumping season many wells are below sea level. Why? Because no effort has been made to stop the flood waters from running away to the ocean. Playing ostrich with a condition like this facing us isn't going to make a winning team either of Orange county or Santa Ana.

NOW, about the High school bonds. We are sending our children every day into buildings which may last for years and which may crumble at any moment. That's what the state architects tell us. The board of education isn't to blame. They didn't send the earthquake. But we are compelling them to accept the responsibility.

If this bond issue to provide safe quarters for our children should fail, the board would be perfectly justified in tearing down the buildings in question and housing the children in tents or temporary buildings.

Maybe you have no children and are not interested. Well, your neighbor has children; your friends have children; your customers have children. They are a part of our community life. If we liken Santa Ana to a winning football team, we can't overlook our obligation to the children, whether they are ours or our neighbor's. They are about the most important asset we have.

AND there's the chest drive. Yes, we dread it, too. But it's a job that has to be done. None of us would like to go back to the old days of year 'round begging. All agencies included in the chest have been carefully scrutinized. The board of directors isn't guessing at their needs and it isn't guessing at the work they accomplish for the community.

You can't dodge your responsibility to the chest and be a first-string member of the Santa Ana team. You can't expect the Santa Ana team to win if you refuse to make some personal sacrifice for the chest. If you are asked to serve in any capacity whatsoever it is because the organizers recognize in you some special ability. You ought to be complimented instead of bored.

When we as individuals make up our minds to think and act like members of a winning football team, the world will say of Santa Ana:

"There's a town that clicks."

Most vacation snapshots are like some gals you see at the bathing beaches—under-developed and over-exposed.

Thoughts while strolling: "What a clean-cut fellow George M. Cohan remains. Somehow he suggests chilled grapefruit. For permanent banishment: Americans living abroad who refer to 'The States.' Who remember when you could not get huckleberry pie at a soda fountain? Add long faced celebrities: Norman Hapgood, Herb Swope and Beatrice Lillie. Those light suited boys from Texas and Oklahoma. Most descriptive book title in years: 'Little Man, What Now?'"

Kathleen Howard is the new Louise Closser Hale of the screen. The prima lady with the straight grey hair!

That phoney smile of the Russian Litvinoff. Time to torpedo those Malaprop and blah blah bits for Alice Brady. She's a dramatic actress. Most nauseating biography on record: Mrs. Harry Lehr's "King Lehr." Futuristic children who dart into Minsky's. The Sieton-hatted hacker of Wiley Post: Frank Phillips.

Look alike: Cecil De Mille and Judge D. H. Kincheloe. Guy Lombardo goes for tin suits. And George White still clings to those fly-sized black bows. Pulse pumping poker memory: The night Dr. George A. Dorsey bet $3,200 on the turn of a card in a red dog game. And lost to Arthur Roche. Stark Young sauntering toward his East Fifty-seventh street apartment. Alliterative seasonal debauch: September shirt sales! The former Boswell of Montparnasse, Wambly Bald. But his name is tied by that Pekin correspondent from London: Jesse Shish. Chillest sounding word in the dictionary: Wife.

Molly Mallory Bj. . . . I can't handle it. Anyway the once great tennis star is a frequent stroller in the upper 50's, the district in which she resides. Her constant companion is a frisky Scottie and almost every dusk they are out for a walk. Once inclined to plumpness, she is now extremely thin, so much so few would recognize her. Although her health is excellent, I hear.

Note from a novelist: "I'm doing everything but finishing my novel. Hope to sell it before it's done. Then I won't have to." Sounds like "Don't miss it if you can!"

The city's most magnificent and cathedral-like five and ten now graces the once forlorn and spooky site of the old Wendell mansion on the avenue. Glittering beacon, perhaps, of the new order. The decor and lighting are comparable in luxury to any store in town. And the general splendor has given new plume to a rundown corner. It has the fewest and smallest windows of any structure its size in town.

George Ade's friends hear that, vastly improved in health, he has been lazing through the summer at his home, Hazelden Manor, by the side of a meandering, sluggish stream known as the Ingoquoise, at Brook, Ind. He does his daily round of the golf course with a drop-in afterward at the local barbershop for a quiet session of rummy in the back room. In the evening the softball games draw him as a rather enthusiastic rooter. His constant companion is Mike Curran, a midget, with a proprietary air like Billie's "shorty." He runs the daily "single eye for visitors and is quite the rock of the walk. Every year when the circus comes, the youngsters are Ade's guests with all the red lemonade and peanuts on the side they can gorge.

In the morning he does a chore of writing and some say it's his autobiography. An effort for which magazine editors and book publishers have been wangling for years.

I'm wondering about the fate of the parlor piano. So many homes without them. On motor rides I pass two abandoned factories. In an auction room I saw one of the finest mass sheathed, grand style, in ivory inset strips. It was the relic of a golden-throated opera star and the original bill of sale confirmed it. Yet it was available for less than $1,000 with no takers. Piano acts on the stage have to be trucked up to click. Or a burlesque act, fair such as Herb Williams or Al Trahan. We wonder, too, how bouncy, red haired Edith Baker in her daunt piano turn on the Frolic Road would be received these modern days. The radio, of course, caused the debacle.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Republican leaders have been mystified regarding the source of the persistent boom for Hoover as Republican nominee in 1936.

The campaign, they knew, did not emanate from the Hoover camp. Mr. Hoover, himself, is for Colonel Knox, and all his close friends are careful to keep Hoover's name out of the running.

Leaders also were sure that the campaign did not come from Mr. Hoover's enemies within the Republican party. They would be the last to start anything of this kind. Now, at last, they have discovered the source of the boom. It was invented by Charley Michelson.

The astute Democratic publicity chief, credited with the 1932 campaign which helped discredit Herbert Hoover, now figures Hoover will be the easiest candidate for Roosevelt to lick. His nomination by the Republicans, Charley figures, would be a big asset to the Democrats.

So Michelson has been quietly putting out the Hoover nomination story wherever and whenever he could.

FLOWER DISPENSER

WIDELY publicized are the White House housekeeper, the cooks, the secret service staff, the ushers, the secretaries, the chauffeurs. But there's one figure, tall, gangling, amiable, who seldom reaches the news.

He is William S. Reeves, and since the days of the other Roosevelt incumbency of the White House, he has occupied a cubby-hole office in the colonnade between the executive offices and the west end of the house.

He runs the "bouquet room." This "bouquet room" is charged with handling all White House flowers and plants: keeping grounds in order; planting and tending flowerbeds; keeping trees pruned; all horticultural work.

In every bedroom and in most of the other rooms, fresh flowers are placed every morning. There must also be a vase of roses or mixed cut flowers on each of the desks in the executive offices, a dinner table center-piece, palms and ferns for receptions. At an evening dance, individual corsages of roses or sweetpeas usually are provided for all ladies, with boutonnieres for gentlemen.

How many blooms pass through that tiny room in a year even Reeves will not attempt to estimate. The flowers come from the White House greenhouses on the mall—an extensive array of some eight large structures—and vary from a few dozen to 20 or 30 dozen daily.

"When we've got lots of flowers, we put lots of flowers in the vase," says Reeves. "When we only have a few, we put only a few in. That's the simplest way I know of working the thing out."

Reeves is an old friend of the present Roosevelt. Years ago, during the Theodore Roosevelt administration, when Franklin Delano and Eleanor Roosevelt were newlyweds and lived in a modest little house at 1733 N. street, he did the gardening in their cramped little backyard.

Mrs. Roosevelt, when she came into the White House as first lady, remembered it. Reeves' maternal grandfather, William Saunders, was first superintendent of the agriculture department, and did the landscaping for Gettysburg National cemetery.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

SEPT. 20, 1910

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The $30,000 airplane which the government acquired last year is the most popular asset of the signal service these days. Almost everybody seems to want to see it. From many different parts of the country the mails bring requests to General Allen for the use of the machine in contests and for a variety of purposes in showing off the government's aviation pet.

The new home of Col. and Mrs. S. H. Finley was the scene of a pleasant gathering last Friday afternoon when Mrs. Finley entertained a few lady friends. Needlework passed the time.

James Sleeper, Miss Ina Sleeper, Claude Sleeper and E. L. Madden came down from Trabuco this morning. Claude Sleeper will continue his studies in high school.

A great revival is on at the town of Talbert. Crowds attend, some to worship, some to cooperate, some to cuss, to hinder and to growl. All splendid evidences of a glorious revival.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Prince had as their guests at a charming dinner party last evening Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vandermast, Misses Winifred Long and Evangeline Newell and Murray Vandermast.

New Deal Meets Severe Tests In October

THE NEW DEAL will meet its severest tests when the supreme court convenes in October. At least three of the administration's fondest alphabetical off-spring will be on trial for their lives. And the nine black-robed old men, solemnly sitting on the supreme bench, will have in their hand the destiny of the leftist tendencies of the Roosevelt regime.

CAN THE government, under the constitution, engage in the generation and distribution of electrical power in competition with private business? Federal Judge Grubb says "No!" So this of appeals says "Yes!" So this little argument is laid in the lap of the supreme court justices, and on their decision rests the whole experimental project which the administration has been fostering in the Tennessee valley. Also numerous other similar projects of which this was but the forerunner.

AN IMPORTANT point in the Roosevelt program is helping the farmer through a series of processing taxes. As industry has been fattened by tariffs, so agriculture would be encouraged by a sort of internal tariff arrangement. Processors in Massachusetts protested but lost their case. But the circuit of appeals reversed this decision. The government intends to lay their matter before the supreme court. MUD HOLLOW NEWS

Sophie Coleslaw, who had been brought up to believe that a wife's place is by her husband's side, has changed her mind. She married a deep sea diver yesterday. . . . While digging in his north pasture Monday, Hank McBloop discovered a bottle of rare old moonshine, vintage of 1925. Hank will present the moonshine to the Smithsonian Institute as an example of early American arts and crafts. . . . The milk train from Alfalfa Gulch was three minutes late this morning, as usual.

Earlie up, and by petrol stage to town, but Lord! the bus do seem mighty deserted, so many brave citizens have moved back, for the wintertide, to the city. Remarkable Remarks

No parliamentary method of procedure can be perfect. But it is better to have the light eternally shining in upon public transactions than to have it shut off. —Senator Borah, criticizing proposal to end one-man filibusters.

If you take the government out of all lines of business, abolish all semblance of the NRA, and stop the policies of the AAA, you'll take one-half of the people off the relief rolls of America within 60 days. —Gov. Eugene Talmadge, Georgia.

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Around and About Town

With C. F. SKIRVIN

Ed Guard lifts a weary anatomy into a pair of trousers and comes down to the Breakfast club to introduce Mac Robbins who tells 13 members already committed to the school bonds that they should support the program. Now if Ed had continued his slumbers and Mac had failed to make the appointment the net school bond vote would have been the same. But Mac wanted to go farther than his immediate audience, so he sent 'em all out as missionaries. It will be a new experience for some of those birds. One of 'em wanted to know what a missionary was for. Boy, there's one for the cannibals.

About this fashion show: Will the haberdashers tell me why a man wears a belt and suspenders at the same time? I'm just a country boy seeking information.

My correspondence informs me that another committee is to be appointed to study the orange industry. I may be dumb but the report from the packing house usually gives me all the study that I can assimilate. If they keep on creating commissions and organizations and committees what little profit the industry is showing will disappear. Why not appoint a committee to investigate unnecessary overhead?

The courthouse verdict prognosticators whose forecast in a certain case was standing eleven to one the conviction, only missed it one word.

Bill Iverson related to me an interview he had respecting the proposed flood control bond election. What he thought was not what the other fellow thought, so Bill is likely to express himself independently. Bill says he can use water but they can't make him take it. It's a difference of opinion which makes elections interesting.

Bill White comes within my observation. He is carrying a little black bag. But why bring that up? I am sure that Bill is not riding to a fall.

Will the League of Nations please investigate! Strained relations have developed between my good friends ex-Councilman LeGaye and Wayne Goble. Time was when they fit shoulder to shoulder. But this flood control bond election places LeGaye "agin" and Goble "fur." Shades of Taxpayers leagues, and past intrigues, where do we go from here?

Whenever I see a fellow pushing a lawn mower it always returns to me the same amount of satisfaction which a candidate gets when he sees the other fellow getting his initiation into a secret fraternity. I have a sacred regard for a lawn mower until I get my hands on the handle bars.

Just because Barney Koster's stomach is as religious as a woman who he should expect me to walk down to the Breakfast club. That fellow has been faithfully calling for me for a long time. Why should I starve just because Barney's digestive power house is on the blink?

I'm making progress. Friend who went on a fishing trip returns home and never even mentions the incident to me. Now that's what I call compassion.

They are putting the "top-hat"—otherwise tower—on the city hall. It will be a fine observation point. If I were going in that direction the tower would interest me, but I somewhat early in the got a bad revelation of towers. There was something about one over in London that always left a sort of uneasy feeling.

Friend goes by with a crutch under each arm. I tried that once. Got so used to them that it took all the officials of an insurance company to take 'em away from me.

Talked with a political connoisseur the other day about the national outlook, and he said it was complex. Is he tellin' me? Now take it in our own state. We won't be able to get on the floor of the national Republican convention unless he is on the California delegation, and if Hoover controls the state delegation Merriam won't. Now there you have it—or do you? Anyway there is still some politics going on within the command borders which is interesting, if it isn't any more than gossip.

Newspaper friend deposits clipping on my typewriter and then takes shelter in his own newspaper. Reporting on the airplane accident the linotype operator put one over on the proof reader and said: "Three of the 12 persons aboard the plane suffered slight injuries." They must have suffered. Probably a reportorial interview.
